YOU, Name of lender and name of agent here are now in default of your obligations to close accounts and release liens. Your letter dated xx/xx/xxxx is refusal of the Bill of Exchange. Wherefore debt is discharged regardless according to UCC § 3-603. Further, the Bill of Exchange has not been endorsed and presented to the Federal Reserve or to the drawer (myself), for payment as valued. Wherefore it has not been dishonored. Further, your letter is erroneous and does not provide any immunity from the law or the Notice and Demand that is in now in your possession. Further, your letter is devoid of any cited authority for your claim that the Bill of Exchange does not constitute valid legal tender. Wherefore your claim is without merit. You will be held liable for injury according to the terms of the Notice and Demand and remedy will be sought.

- A bill of exchange fulfills the legal definition of a negotiable instrument (currency) and also per Uniform Commercial Code (UCC) 3-104 and legally discharges any alleged debt.
- This alleged account has been discharged in full by a codified Bill of Exchange.
- And further, drawer or the FEDERAL RESERVE is lawfully obligated to immediately honor the Bill of Exchange upon endorsement and presentment. The Federal Reserve is obligated to do so according to USC TITLE 12 > CHAPTER 3 > SUBCHAPTER IX > § 343.
- And further, refusal to accept the Bill of Exchange is discharge of debt according to UCC § 3-603. TENDER OF PAYMENT. (b) If tender of payment of an obligation to pay an instrument is made to a person entitled to enforce the instrument and the tender is refused, there is discharge, to the extent of the amount of the tender, of the obligation of an endorser or accommodation party having a right of recourse with respect to the obligation to which the tender relates.

Further collection activities will be considered fraud and punishable to the full extent of the law. This includes fines, possible imprisonment and liable of all injuries as valued by law cited per Notice and Demand that is now in your receipt.

I rightfully demand the immediate closure of these alleged accounts and release of liens attached to my property being name or description of property here

Further, it is curious that you Name of lender and name of agent here are unwilling to simply endorse the Bill of Exchange (as any check) and present it to the Federal Reserve Bank or to the maker/drawer (myself) for immediate collection as valued as provided by law. Regardless of your unreasonable decision, debt is discharged and you will be held liable for injury as per Notice and Demand.
